

NICKLAUS CHILDREN'S

Nursing Innovation Sprint Challenge

Interested in exploring some of healthcare's most pressing problems as they relate to effectiveness, efficiency and patient/caregiver experience through the lens of design?

Join us for the launch of our Pediatric Nursing Innovation Sprint Challenge – a highly immersive series of events designed to introduce our pediatric nurses to the power of design thinking and drive innovation across the health system.

This half-day workshop will focus on the first phase of the design process — Discovery. Learn to apply design thinking tools and techniques to uncover issues and explore problems in healthcare. Adopt a fresh perspective and gain actionable takeaways to apply to your everyday work. Selected problem statements will help drive the output of our Innovation Sprint series later in the year.
